Angle Bisectors To bisect the angle \( \angle ABC \)

1. Draw an arc of a circle that intersects the two rays at P and Q.

2. Now draw two arcs, one from each of P and Q, of the same radius, that intersect in a point R. The line through B and R bisects the angle. (Again, why is it necessary that the arcs be of the same radius?)